Watertown Follows CDC Guidance on J&J Vaccine

Halts homebound vaccinations until further notice.

As reported by the CDC and FDA in a joint statement, six cases of a rare and severe type of blood clot has been reported in individuals after receiving the Johnson & Johnson (Janssen) vaccine. All six cases occurred among women between the ages of 18 and 48, and symptoms occurred 6 to 13 days after vaccination. “Out of an abundance of caution” both the CDC and FDA recommend a pause in the use of the vaccine. Watertown’s Health Dept. is following this recommendation. The Department has administered approximately 73 doses of the single-shot J&J vaccine in its homebound vaccination efforts.

People who have received the J&J vaccine who develop severe headache, abdominal pain, leg pain, or shortness of breath within three weeks after vaccination should contact their health care provider. In the United States, 6.8 million doses have been administered since April 12, 2021.
